

IT Support and Maintenance Services

Spending too much time and resources managing your computer systems? Let us help. We have the knowledge and resources to efficiently maintain and support your IT infrastructure, and we can even serve as your outsourced IT or desktop support staff.

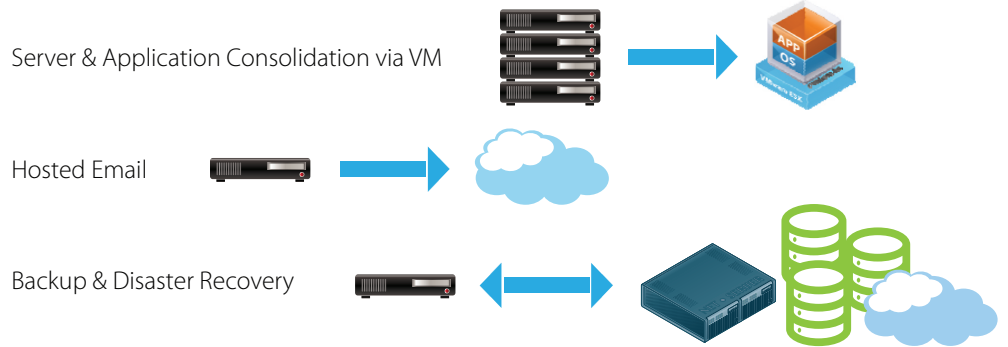

Macro Solutions Group IT Services

These Support and Maintenance Services are ideal for small to mid-sized companies who tend to give the IT tasks to their most technically savvy employees, but employees who are really not trained as IT professionals. A monthly maintenance contract with Macro Solutions provides you with greater peace of mind, because we proactively monitor your equipment performance and maintenance schedule. As a result, your staff spends more time on the things that make you money.

Staff Augmentation

In most cases, outsourcing your IT staff or supplementing your desktop support positions is more cost-effective than trying to staff it internally. We can provide multiple technical leads at a moments' notice – experts who are cross-trained on multiple platforms. This is a lot more dependable than relying upon a one or two person IT team or desktop support group. You won't need to worry about employee turnover, vacations, sick days, training, benefits, etc. Our team of experts receives ongoing training on the latest technologies, while having access to multiple resources for support.
